DON'T FORGET TO VOTE

In the Christchurch Local Elections

It's local elections time in Christchurch this month and it's not just about Jim Anderton vs Bob Parker battling it out for Mayor. Addington is in the Spreydon/Heathcote Ward, so we get to pick two City Councillors and five Community Board members as well.

If you've not voted in a local election before, now's a good time to try it! Remember that the local elections are done by mail, not at a booth, so the forms start going out on 17 September and it all has to be over by 9 October. So fill out your vote and send it back as soon as you can, don't leave it too late.

For more information on the voting process, look at the City Council website: <http://ccc.govt.nz/thecouncil/howthecouncilworks/councilelections/index.aspx> or contact Clare Sullivan, the CCC Electoral officer, 941 8533.

Monday nights at Manuka Cottage in Addington sees an opportunity for poets, writers and singers and those who aspire to such things, to meet together and share their creative work, thoughts and musings in a warm living room over coffee, tea and the occasional muffin. Last Monday was no exception with Bob Dylan being read aloud, and original poetry and song being given an airing. Charles Dickens would have been amused, or more probably, bemused. You need not be a writer or performer to be welcome. The evening is open to anyone, especially if they want a place to share their interests in a creative arena.
